Art Unit: 2643

1. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Shelley (US PAT. NO. 4,847,892) discloses a dial-in data transmission system with standby capabilities. Shelley teaches dial-in during one hour each night.

Xia et al (US PAT. NO. 6,487,282) discloses apparatus and method for an inbound telemetry device to sense telephone line status.

Verma et al (US PAT. NO. 4,833,618) discloses a system for automatically reading utility meters from a remote location.

White et al (US PAT. NO. 5,239,575) discloses a telephone dial-inbound data acquisition system with demand reading capability.

2. Claims 1-20 are allowed.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the present invention is a automatic meter reader communication system and method for communicating between a center apparatus and the meter reader at times during which telephone usage is determined to be minimal by the meter reader device. The physical combination of means and steps for collecting telephone usage information, analyzing the usage information to determine time periods when the telephone is less likely to be used by the user, and directing the meter reader to communication with a remote center during those time periods as recited in the independent claims are not taught nor fairly suggested by the prior art of record since the prior art all fail to collect, analyze and determine a period of minimal telephone usage of the user to determine the best time to report data.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Wing F. Chan whose telephone number is 571-272-7493. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Friday from 9 AM to 6 PM.
